

EARTH DAY MESSAGE FROM SUNSHINE CANYON LANDFILL
APRIL 22, 2016

Sylmar, Calif. (April 22, 2016) — At Sunshine Canyon Landfill, we believe that sustainability is about balance in daily life. We know that people care about the environment and that they want to be environmentally responsible and do the right thing. Today, we are officially celebrating Earth Day and continuing our work to create a positive impact for our environment.

Sunshine Canyon Landfill has made significant investments in the land around and on the landfill site. We have grown more than 20,000 oak trees from acorns on site, and we have dedicated more than 900 acres of woodland and grassland areas around the landfill, creating numerous preserves and recreational areas. In addition, we granted 80 acres of easements for hiking trails, and we have dedicated nearly 1,000 acres for permanent open space, and park and recreational use.

We are taking steps to support our environment, and there's always more we can do. This Earth Day we encourage you to take the #1MORE pledge and commit to one more act of environmental stewardship -- every day, every week, everywhere. Pledge one more tree planted. One more bottle recycled. One more carpool shared. Each act – no matter how small – counts. Visit <http://local.republicservices.com/1more> to learn more and take the pledge today!
